Dear Parents of HCAT Children

I would like to keep you up to date on a couple of issues to do with Coronavirus.

Firstly, schools remain open but the situation and advice, as you know, is constantly changing and being updated.

Secondary, please follow Government Guidelines on 'self-isolation' – if you or any of your children have a new cough and/or high temperature, shortage of breath or indeed any 'flu like symptoms' then the sensible action is to self-isolate.

Finally, please don't worry about your child being absent, if you feel you have to take the Government advice – then do so. As a parent myself I know you must do what is best for you and your family. I support you.

Please however, as always, inform school clearly of the reason for absence.

I along with all fellow Heads, are conscious of anxiety levels increasing as this present situation develops. Please remember that 'self-isolation' does not mean that you or your child has Coronavirus. It is sensible precautionary step, encouraged by the Government to try and help reduce the risks.

Some parents will be in favour of schools remaining open, others will be against. The whole situation is quite incredible and unusual for all of us. I will keep you updated.

Kind Regards
Estelle Macdonald
